Mass leave, silent marches: Resident doctors protest, stay away from OPD, surgeries

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
MUMBAI, JUNE 14

MEDICAL COLLEGES across the state asked all senior doctors, from professors to lecturers, to be on duty as more than 4,500 resident doctors in the state went on mass leave from 8 am to 5 pm in government hospitals on Friday. They were protesting the brutal assault on a Kolkata doctor by relatives of a patient.

However, protesting doctors were available for emergency procedures. With fewer doctors, Nair hospital conducted 20 surgeries and KEM hospital conducted 80 surgeries. Dr R N Bharmal, dean of Nair hospital, said the hospital attended to 907 patients in outpatient department.

72 resident doctors from Sion hospital said they opted for the "Gandhian method" of protest. "We wanted to make our protest meaningful. While relatives of patients continue to assault doctors, we are donating blood and performing our duty of saving lives," said Dr Prashant Chaudhari, president of Maharashtra Association of Resident Doctors (MARD) at Sion hospital.

Chaudhari added that demands to improve security had remained a major dialogue between medical students and hospital administration for the past three years.

In 2017, following a case of assault on an orthopaedic doctor in Dhule civil hospital, the state government had strengthened security across all government hospitals. But the demand for CCTV cameras in all wards is still pending.

On June 10, Dr Paribaha

Mukherjee was assaulted by relatives of a patient in NRS Medical College, Kolkata, leading to critical injuries. On Friday, apart from resident doctors, the Indian Medical Association also joined the protest across India, bringing in even private practitioners.

With the slogan 'Save the saviours', resident doctors at KEM hospital wore black and bandaged their heads, symbolic of frequent attacks they suffered at the hands of patients' relatives. A group of them even staged a skit.

Outside BYL Nair hospital, resident doctors held a silent march, with some wearing helmets to show the lack of security for doctors at hospitals.

"All resident doctors and interns are part of this protest. We need a secure environment so that this is not repeated in future," said resident doctor Shubangi.

Son denied admission in Vashi school for having single parent, says mother

GARGI VERMA
NAVI MUMBAI, JUNE 14

A 27-YEAR-OLD single mother was allegedly denied an admission form for her seven-year-old son at St Lawrence School in Vashi. The woman, who works as a sales manager at a private company, posted a video on social media in which another woman, who is purportedly the principal of the school, is seen saying the school "cannot handle children of single parents".

The school's management issued a statement saying it will "look into the matter and follow due process". Sujata Mohite, a resident of Nerul, said she was seeking admission for her son in Class II at the school since April. "I had called the institute and asked if they were accepting admissions. When they said yes, I went to the school but they denied me a form and told me that there was no vacancy in Class II," she said. Mohite said she separated from her husband four years ago and was sending her child to the Poddar School in Seawoods.

She said she was willing to provide a no-objection certificate claiming that the boy was in her custody. When Mohite tried applying a few days later, she was told that the school was not accepting any new admissions.

"I asked my friends to pose as a couple and contact the school. They were told that admissions are open and there is a vacancy. On Thursday, I went to the school along with my friends, where principal Sairy Kanade told me to my face that since I was a single parent, they couldn't admit my son," she alleged. In the video that Mohite posted, a woman purported to be Kanade, is seen saying, "We can't handle single parents' kids. We ask children to bring both parents. Single parents cause a lot of problems."

Despite repeated attempts, The Indian Express could not meet Kanade as her staff said she was "busy". The parent company, Ryan International, issued a statement, "As an educational institution, we do not discriminate in admitting students under any criteria nor do we have any such policy for parents...as the video has just come to our attention, we are investigating... will take appropriate action..."

GARGI VERMA
THANE, JUNE 14

A 30-YEAR-OLD man was arrested for allegedly beating his wife to death in Mumbra on Friday.

Police said the man killed his wife in front of their seven-year-old daughter and three-year-old son.

"The accused and his wife lived in a chawl and worked as daily wage labourers. On Friday, when he returned from work, he asked his wife to buy alcohol for him," said an officer.

According to police, his wife returned with the alcohol, but the accused started abusing her for being late and then started beating her.

"He started beating her and when other neighbours tried to intervene, he asked them to get out," the officer said.

Police said the accused beat his wife to death and then leaving her at the door, went to his mother's house, who took him to the police station.

"He told us that his wife had consumed poison and died," a senior officer said.

Police arrested the accused for killing his wife on Friday evening.
